

Pamela Schopieray (2015), is the Director of Career Services, Community Service Work-Study and Internships at the Ohio State University, Mansfield. She found her interest in becoming a career services professional as the result of her own major decisions dilemma as an undergraduate. As a first generation college student from Portsmouth, Ohio, Pam went to college with a goal to obtain a career helping people. During the last 24 years at The Ohio State University at Mansfield, Pam has helped students both 1:1 and in the classroom through teaching career readiness courses to pursue their dreams. Pam will use her scholarship funds to attend the National Association of Colleges and Employers conference.
